

After starting my career in UX design, I moved into a role as a product manager creating and rolling out an internal operating system. But, I realised my real passion is hands-on design work so I shifted to leading UX design for a start-up in London. I recently moved back to Australia and am now looking for my next adventure.

experience

Chumley | Lead UX Designer

June 2021 - Present | Remote

I am working directly with the CEO to identify and design the MVP of a new marketplace mobile app to empower homeowners and tradespeople to manage their property jobs.

Aspect | Digital Product Manager

September 2020 - June 2021 | London

In charge of the design and roll out of a new internal operating system (Salesforce). Managing a dev team of seven people, aligning requirements for the user base, business key stakeholders and the technical team.

Aspect | UX Designer

October 2019 - September 2020 | London

Design, build and roll out of an online payment system to reactively calculate job values, take payments and post to Aspect financial systems. Within four months from implementation this system covered 80% of the daily transactions.

Morffew Photos | Photographer

October 2018 - February 2019 | Sydney

Managing, directing and assisting in high-end (family) photoshoots. Other responsibilities included consulting with clients, post-production related work, administration and sales.

The Photo Studio | Photography Assistant

September 2018 - February 2019 | Sydney

Working closely with a team of professional photographers, stylists and studio managers while getting first-hand experience in all tasks involved with running professional photoshoots.

EF Education First | Activities Coordinator

August 2017 - February 2018 | Sydney

Organising and leading excursions for international students to experience Australia's culture through sports, clubs and activities. Other responsibilities included liaising with local suppliers, sales, admin and designing promo material.
